INSTRUCTOR WALKTHROUGH

Step #1 - Commit To Publishing Every Single Day For A Year

Endure long enough to get noticed

Blog Post by Nathan Barry

“How many great TV shows have you discovered in season 3 or later?”

I started watching Game of Thrones after they had released 5 seasons.

Pat Flynn had released at least 100 episodes of his podcast before I even knew he existed. I discovered Hard Core History years after Dan Carlin started producing it.

This is such a common experience. There is so much content being produced that we can’t possibly discover it all. So instead we wait for the best content to float to the surface after time.

If step one in building an audience is to create great content, step two is to endure long enough to get noticed.

Seth Godin is very generous with his time and will appear on almost any relevant podcast—but you have to have recorded at least 100 episodes first. His filter is creators who have shown they are willing to show up consistently for a long time.”

SHORT FORM VIDEO FRAMEWORK

The 60-Second Perfect Webinar

Part 1 | The Hook

The hook is the most important part of your video! It's the first thing you say at the beginning of your video. And it's how people determine whether they're going to keep watching or not. If you skip the hook and just start telling the story or context, people will just scroll to the next video in their feed.

Here's some of our best performing hooks:

- The #1 secret to ___ is...
- Here's how to ____...
- If you're struggling with ___, this is your problem... Did you know...
- How to ___ without ____...
- This is probably going to ruffle some feathers...
- Everything you knew about ___ is wrong...
- Here are 3 tips to ____...
- Here's one simple hack to ____...
- Don't make this mistake...
- Here's the secret to ____...

WRITE YOUR HOOK:

Part 2 | The Story or Context

This is where you give your viewer the context or story behind what you're about to tell them. This is crucial because it shows them WHY it's important to them. Without a story, your content has no meaning, and your audience won't take it seriously. Stories are also a really great way to get people to keep watching, because once our brains get into a story we have to finish it!

Here are some prompts to help you come up with a story idea:

- So a few weeks ago... [tell the story of how you learned it]
- Too many people do ___ when they should do ____... [give the context of what most people are doing wrong, and what they should do instead]
- In the book ___ by ___, it says... [share a quote from a book]
- People always ask me... [answer a question that you get asked a lot]
- So I know this might sound crazy, but... [tackle a false belief you know they'll have about your content]

WRITE YOUR STORY:

Part 3 | The 3 Secrets or Tips

Now give them your top 3 secrets or tips that will help them get the result they're looking for. REMEMBER, these have to be SHORT.

Your job is to teach them the WHAT, not the HOW.

Simply name each of the 3 secrets, and briefly explain what it is in one sentence.

- #1 is _____. [Explain briefly.]
- #2 is _____. [Explain briefly.]
- #3 is _____. [Explain briefly.]

WRITE YOUR 3 SECRETS

Part 4 | The Offer or CTA

You ALWAYS want to make sure you end your videos with some sort of Offer or Call To Action (CTA). Without it, the content just feels lifeless and meaningless. If your goal as a movement leader is to get people to change their lives, then INVITE them to take ACTION! But it doesn't have to be anything crazy. The CTA can be as simple as asking them to follow you for more content.

So if you're a [target market name] and you want to get [result or benefit], make sure to [fill in one of the examples below]...

Here are some examples:

- [Invite them to do the thing you just taught them about]
- Follow for more tips
- Hit the link in my bio to get access to ____.
- Go to _____.com to get_____.
- Comment ____ below and I'll send you ____.
- DM me ____ and I'll show you how.

BONUS: Video Shooting Tips

You don't need fancy video equipment to get started making videos!

Remember, consistency is more important than quality at first. Through consistency, your videos will get better and better over time automatically.

Then, when you're at the stage where you're ready to really grow your brand and your movement, you can invest in a professional team to create your content for you.

Here are some tips for shooting high quality videos on your phone:

- Look for good lighting! If you're shooting indoors, sit next to a window for the best light.
- Tap on the camera view and drag the exposure down just a little bit to avoid bright highlights in your shot.
- Turn on "Cinematic Mode" on your phone to get a professional blurry background.
- Frame your face so it's about 1/3 from the top of the screen, so it doesn't get cut off by your username on the platform.
- Put your phone on a tripod or have a friend hold it, and back up a little bit so your face isn't so big in the frame.
- Make sure you have "high quality uploads" turned on in TikTok and Instagram
- Use "Auto Captions" when you upload your video to TikTok, Instagram, or YouTube to put captions on it.
